SOVIET SPECIALIST DIRECTS RESEARCH
IN BACTERIOLOGICAL WARFARE IN PEIPING

Taihoku, 24 June -- An unconfirmed report reveals that a large agency has been established in Peiping for research in bacteriological warfare. According to this report, it is being directed by a Soviet bacteriologist, Ch'ia-k'o-ssu-chi (卡科斯基) [Chaykovskiy?], who is assisted by five Soviet laboratory technicians and 16 Chinese instructors.

A KMT official states that the Chinese personnel working on this project are former students who returned from England and the US.
